HE heat was oppressive to-day, Not a breath of air was stirring.

The sport-seeking crowd which made the journey to West 'Chester sweltered in the rays of an almost tropical sun.

The track was in first-class shape, and the card was a good one. The prettiest finish of the day was in the Hudson river handlcap, which was fourth on the card. The light-weighted fourth on the card. The light-weighted Melba cut out the running, closely followed by Terrifier, Gloaming and His Highness. This order prevailed to the stretch. There the field closed on the leaders, and at the furiong pole His Highness showed in front. Then Raceland came through on the inside and Stockton moved. came through on the inside and stock on moved up on the outside. A red-hot finish ensued, and Raceland and His Highners passed under the wire so close together that the judges were unable to separate, and it was declared a dead heat Stockton was a head away in the third place.

Nomination Upon Him He Will Decline.

If His Party Forces the Gubernatorial

PETERSBURG, VA., June 5.-Special .-Major Mann Page arrived here this afternoon about 1 o'clock, and left at 4 o'clock for home. I met him on the street, and asked him about his nomina-tion by the Third party for Governor. He said that he was president of the Farmers' Alliance of Virginia, and also member of the executive committee the National Alliance, and that since he had held these positions he had made it a rule never to be a candidate for any political office. He added that his term of office as president of the Alliance would expire in August next, and his membership of the national executive committee in November next. I then said, 'Major, suppose the Third party con-rention should force the nomi-lation for Governor on you?"

nation for Governor on you?"
His reply was that he did not expect anything of that kind, as he was not a candidate for office, and, if such a nomination was tendered him, he would a nomination was tendered him, he would most positively decline it. In reply to interrogatives, Major Page said he thought the Third party would make a big fisht for the Legislature. When asked as to who would probably be the nominees of the Third party for the Legislature, Major Page said: "Since I have been in the Alliance I have studiouesly avoided party caucuses and conventions, and, therefore, am not posted as to the leaders' purpose, but I trust the people will hold purpose, but I trust the people will hol rould be the Democratic nomines for lovernor, Major Page said: "I think all the Cleveland wing of the Democratic arty will insist on the nomination of Colonel O'Ferrail, and will also indorse Cleveland's financial policy, but whether the Democratic party proper, led by Lleutenant-Governor Hoge Tyler, can rescue the nomination from the adminisration, is a question of which I am in loubt. I believe the Southwest is en-itled to the nomination. If I was affilating with the Democrats I should cer-ning cast my vote for Hoge Tyler." Mr. E. C. THE COPPER AND BANJO. He Was Pining for Beethoven Sonatas and Not Banjo Plunks.

The air of yesterday was enervating and the few zephyrs which wafted them selves about the street corners and loss themselves on the tin roofs were hardly conductive on the in foot was markly conductive to efforts of any kind. Even the poor policeman stood in the shade, con-suited the thermometer, and mopped his broad, expansive brow with a bargain counter liandkerchief. Policeman Williams loves music. In fact, a Beethoven sonata or a Chopin naturne in G minor fills his soul with gleefulness, and he will any time forego the pleasure of asparagus tips and spring chicken to listen to an intermezzo or ar adagio movement. To such a soul as this—a soul that would give up one whole day's salary for the harmonies of a Paderewiski or the trills of a Patti—the "plunk" of a banjo has but few charms, and, coupled with the "plunking" of an intoxicated man, it is no small wonder that blue-coated copper immediately de scended to the scene of the solree and made a grab for the interpreter of plan-

HEARING OF THE CELEBRATED

CASE BEGUN AT NEW BEDFORD.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS., June 5 .- The ong-anticipated Borden murder trial has begun. At an early hour this morning every available shady spot on County street, near the court-house, was preempted, and patiently the sitters and standers waited until the bell on the court-house tolled, signifying the opening of the court.

At precisely 10:53 Miss Lizzle Borden the prisoner, came slowly into the court-room and was shown to her seat in the dock. She was attired in a very becoming costume of black brocade stuff, and wore a pretty shade hat, relieved by a touch here and there of blue. Every seat in the room was occupied by talesmen and newspaper men, no outsiders being ad mitted up to that time, and within the box enclosure were a few of the promi-nent men of the county, who had been acorded seats by courtesy.

The jury was completed at 4:45 this afternoon. The quickness with which the jury was impanelled was a surprise teverybody, even the counsel, and they were somewhat unprepared. The hour was so late that it was not whether it was best to go on w opening for the prosecution or to defer tation took place in regard to the matter between counsel.

On Saturday an exciting runaway oc curred on West Haywood street. The curred on West Haywood street. The horse, hitched to a buggy, in which were seated Eli Muston and a drummer, J. C. Bannon, became frightened at a dummy engine, and soon became utterly uncontrollable. Mr. Bannon was thrown out before the horse got fairly started on his mad career, and suffered some painful, but not serious, injuries about the head. The seat went out with Mr. Bannon and Mr. Muston by the same inmost miraculous escape.

Two or three runaways, without serious results, however, have been caused by bicyclists lately.
